Business & Complex Commercial Litigation
Products Liability
Employment Law

Glenn Larkin is a litigation attorney at Quattlebaum, Grooms & Tull PLLC, where his practice focuses on business and complex commercial litigation, products liability, and employment law. He has been a key member of multiple trial teams in high-stakes matters, including complex litigation for a global retail client. He is recognized in Best Lawyers: Ones to Watch® in America for Commercial Litigation.

After graduating from law school, Glenn began his legal career at the firm before serving as a law clerk to the Honorable Lee P. Rudofsky of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas. He returned to the firm following his clerkship, bringing with him valuable insight into federal court practices and procedures as well as judicial decision-making.

Glenn received his J.D., summa cum laude, from the University of Arkansas at Little Rock School of Law where he was Articles Editor of the University of Arkansas at Little Rock Law Review and, as the top-ranked student in his law school class, received twelve top paper awards. He graduated with a Bachelor of Arts in History from the University of South Carolina-Upstate.
